

INFORMATION AND RESOURCES ON WATER SAFETY

- The RNLI and RLSS websites contain sections that provide guidance on water safety and water rescue
- Information and a downloadable copy of the National Drowning Prevention Strategy at <http://www.nationalwatersafety.org.uk/strategy/>
- Some free, curriculum based teaching resources on water safety are available from www.gosafescotland.com
- Please go to YouTube and type in Stay Safe Stay Out of Quarries to view a short video summary giving key messages and clips of the friends and parents of teenagers who have died in quarry accidents. (this covers water related and other hazards)
- Please go to Facebook and type in Stay Safe Stay Out of Quarries, to view the campaign page which includes recent examples of quarry related incidents and links to other resources and campaigns.
- For more information about the campaign or if you would like to arrange for a school or a supervised, educational quarry visit please contact Elizabeth Clements at elizabeth.clements@mineralproducts.org
- Visit the Mineral Products Association's website at www.mineralproducts.org and view the youth zone.

Please support us in helping young people to appreciate that quarries, reservoirs and other similar industrial sites have hidden dangers and there are better places for adventurous activities.
