

If you want...

SOMEONE ELSE'S LIFE

(AUTOBIOGRAPHY)

you should try:

BOY Roald Dahl The early life stories of one of the world's most famous children's authors. His own stories are just as crazy and funny as his works of fiction. Worth reading just for the trick played on the horrible sweet shop owner, Mrs Pratchett.

AR: 6.0

256 pages

GOING SOLO

Roald Dahl The next stage of Dahl's life following part 1 in 'Boy'. Read about the author's incredible near-death experiences as a pilot in World War II.

AR: 6.1

240 pages

LIFE ON AIR

David Attenborough Read about the broadcasting legend whose knowledgeable voice is heard on the greatest nature programmes. You'll discover much about this man's life you would never realise he did or achieved. Did you know he was in charge of BBC2?

Non-AR

448 pages

UNBELIEVABLE

Jessica Ennis The story of Jessica Ennis' early years and the key events that led to her becoming a World and Olympic Heptathlon champion and one of Britain's most successful athletes.

Non-AR

288 pages

LONG WALK TO FREEDOM

Nelson Mandela The riveting memoirs of the outstanding moral and political leader of our time. The book brilliantly re-creates the drama of the experiences that helped shape Nelson Mandela's destiny.

Non-AR

784 pages

KP: THE AUTOBIOGRAPHY

Kevin Pietersen The fascinating life story of professional cricketer Kevin Pietersen, MBE, from his childhood in South Africa to his experiences as one of the leading lights in the world of international cricket.

Non-AR

336 pages